NUMB. 3145

SATURDAY MARCH 31, 1744.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Constantinople, February 25.

HE Dutch Ambassador, M. de Clikoen, has fixed the 20th of next Month for his Departure. The Court flatters us with the Hopes of a speedy Peace with Persia; and it is even said, that the Preliminaries are on the Point of being signed, there remaining nothing now to be settled but the boundaries of the Provinces which are to be given up to Persia. The Order lately issued, however, for marching a considerable Body of Janizaries to the Frontiers, as well as the Truth of this; and some go so far as to say, that it is entirely a Contrivance of the Ministry, to pacify the Clamours of the People.

Stockholm, March 16. We are now in great Hopes, we shall speedily reap the Fruits, as well as the Satisfaction, of Peace; inasmuch as it is certain, that his Imperial Highness of Russia is inclin'd to do every Thing that can be expected from him, towards bringing about a Peace, between this Crown and that of Denmark. We continue to take all imaginable Pains to support and perfect our Manufactures; and to extend Foreign Commerce; and, it is believed, that the Diet will be assembled, on Purpose to pass some of those that are thought requisite in this Respect.

Copenhagen, March 28. This Morning Count Tessin put on his Return to Stockholm, after having received from their Majesties, in his last Audience, all the Marks of Respect and Esteem possible; with an Assurance, that his Majesty will enter into any Negotiation that tend to strengthen the Union, that, at present, subsists between the two Courts; and that a Minister should be sent to Stockholm with Instructions for that Purpose.

Madrid, March 17. The Court has all of a sudden changed its Language with respect to M. de Court, who was formerly thought to have behaved extremely well; having rejected our Squadron as much as was in his Power, and shewed a very great Inclination to have continued the Engagement; when the Condition that our Ships were in, obliged him to prefer their Safety to the Glory which might have otherwise resulted. A Courier who arrived this Morning, brought Advice, that the French Fleet was in a Condition to put to Sea again, and would proceed in Search of Admiral de la Torre, who was expected on our Coast. This Morning early the Dutch Ambassador received a Courier from his Court, immediately demanded an Audience of his Majesty; which he was admitted before the King was dress'd. Soon as the Ambassador withdrew, his Majesty went to the Queen's Apartment, and told her the Contents of the Ambassador's Dispatches; with which, 'tis said, her Majesty seemed to be extremely well satisfied.

Naples, March 18. Prince Lobkowitz continues to pursue the Spaniards with all imaginable Vigour; and as he daily receives fresh Recruits, it is believed that he will continue his March into the Territories of Naples, about waiting for any farther Instructions from Vienna. In the mean time, we are well assured, that the King of the Two Sicilies has taken care to cause great quantities of Provisions to be stored on the Frontiers of his Dominions; and is actually drawing down an Army of 30,000 Men to cover them. It is believed, that the Van of the Spanish Army entered the Territories of Naples Yesterday.

Lisbon, March 14. His Majesty is determined to send a Ship to Portsmouth, in order to bring him certain Intelligence of the Condition Admiral Matthews is in, and when he expects to return into our Seas. We are certain Accounts, that upon the Prince of Conti's going to Aix, and finding the Spanish Army much less numerous than he expected, he delivered himself in such a Language to the Marquis de la Mina, that it ended in mutual Reproaches, and an open Quarrel; on which his Highness had dispatched a Courier to Paris, and had ordered to join the Spanish Army till after his return. In the mean time, they write from Toulon, that they have received Orders to fit out, with the greatest Diligence, the four Spanish Men of War that were left in the Port; as also two new built French Ships, that are to be put to Sea, in order to escort the Embarkation of the Prince of Conti.

Franchfort, April 1. A Convention is said to have been lately signed by the Imperial, French, and Spanish Ministers, in relation to the Operations of the ensuing Campaign, but is kept a very great Secret; tho' it is generally thought, that, in Consequence thereof, the Court of France will immediately declare War against the Queen of Hungary; and, by making a powerful Diversion in the Austrian Netherlands, afford his Imperial Majesty an Opportunity of entering Bavaria, with an Army of 80,000 Men, which will be ready to march in a Month or Six Weeks Time. The Court is extremely pleased with Two Pieces of News, which it has lately received; the first is, that his Prussian Majesty has certainly ordered 27,000 Men to be ready to march at an Hour's Warning; and has likewise given Directions for erecting a great Magazine on the Frontiers of Guelders. The other Piece of News is this, that, in the new Convention made by his Britannick Majesty with the Court of Hesse, for taking into his Service 6000 of their Troops, there is a Clause, by which it is stipulated, that they shall not be obliged to serve in the Empire.

Hague, March 7. We have certain Advice from Paris, that War will be immediately declared against the Queen of Hungary. The same Advices say, that Count de Saxe will very speedily be declared a Marshal of France, and sent with a Body of 40,000 Men to attack the Electorate of Hanover. His Prussian Majesty is returned suddenly to Berlin, where all Things are in great Motion; and from whence we expect, suddenly, some News of Importance.

The late vigorous Attempts of the emissaries of Rome, to diffuse their poisonous Tenets among a free and Protestant People, and that under the happy Government of an illustrious Protestant Prince, must raise in every sober and generous Mind a just Indignation against them, and a tender Compassion to the Weak and Ignorant, who are most exposed to their horrid Delusions. Surely, never did any Thing, that wore the sacred Name of Religion, appear in the World, so monstrously absurd and detestable as Popery, which is the cruellest Merchandise of Men's Lives and Souls, and lies in direct Contradiction to Reason and Revelation, to Morality and Common Sense, and to all the dearest Interests of Civil Society, of Liberty, Conscience, and Eternal Salvation.
